

A man with a beard and dark hair, wearing a light pink short-sleeved shirt and a black and white vertically striped apron, is smiling at the camera. He is standing in a kitchen, leaning over a wooden cutting board. On the board is a round, flatbread-like item topped with a mixture of white cheese and brown crumbles. He is holding a small metal cup in his left hand and sprinkling its contents onto the food. A large knife with a silver handle and a serrated blade lies on the cutting board. In the background, there is a stainless steel range hood, wooden cabinets, and various kitchen items like a water bottle and a colorful cloth.
